TRANSLATION SERVICES OVERVIEW

Gracor has been supplying high quality language services for over 25 years to international, regional and statewide businesses and government agencies, including Fortune® 500 companies.

Headquartered in Columbus, Ohio, Gracor is a certified Woman Owned Small Business (WOSB), certified Minority Business Enterprise (MBE) and in the state of Ohio Female Business Enterprise (FBE). Memberships include: American Translators Association (ATA), MBDA, NAPW, Professional Member of the International Language Testing Association, and Intelligence Community Teaming Opportunities.

Gracor's commitment to quality is evident in our ISO 9001:2015 certification. Gracor passed ISO certification with zero nonconformities - something rare for companies of any size on their initial registration, and to accomplish this as a small minority-owned business shows true dedication to our clients and the quality of our service.

Gracor is comprised of an experienced staff of native speakers from around the globe. Gracor's extensive pool of translation experts, in over 100 languages, possess vast experience within any technical discipline including engineering, medical, legal, and software industries as well as being high caliber linguists. This allows Gracor to match linguists to specific subject matter for translations that match in the target language in both content and intent of the source.

Most of Gracor's translators are certified by the American Translators Association (ATA) and our interpreters hold various industry standard certifications, such as Certified Court Interpreters, Judicial Council for many states, Supreme Court Certifications for a number of states, Certified Social Services Interpreters and Certified Medical Interpreters, and are members of National Association of Judiciary Interpreters and Translators (NAJIT).

In Gracor's 25 years of operation it has never advertised. This factor demonstrates Gracor's outstanding reputation for quality and accuracy of service. Word of mouth, referrals and industry discussions continue to lead Gracor's name to further clients.
